Accessibility questions:

1. I added "<html lang='en'>" to the top of the index file. No other changes were needed.
2. The site is tabbable. I tried navigating the page not using the mouse and only the keyboard and I was able to get to and click on everything.
3. I'm interested in learning more about accessibility tests/features for people who have hearing-related disabilities. I wonder how a site like this would work for them, and how it might be changed so that they might enjoy it too since it is such an audio based site.
